In packaging, marking and transporting the Goods, the Supplier must abide by applicable international and national laws regarding the transportation of Goods and the protection of safety, health and the environment.

 - (d) suspension under clause 12;
 - (e) delay in processes of governmental bodies which was not caused or contributed to by the Supplier or its Personnel in any way and which the Supplier can demonstrate (to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company) affects the timeframe for performance by the Supplier and cannot be negated by the Supplier acting reasonably.
- 10.11. The Supplier must use best endeavours to mitigate the effect of any of the occurrences set out in clause 10.10.
- 10.12. If as a result of a delay caused by the matters referred to in clause 10.10 (other than a delay pursuant to clause 10.10(c) or 10.10(d)) the extension of time to be granted to the Supplier pursuant to clause 10.10 will exceed 30 days, the Company may immediately terminate this Agreement by giving written notice of such termination to the Supplier.
- 10.13. The Company shall pay to the Supplier the reasonable direct costs (which must be substantiated to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company) of the Supplier as a result of obstruction and/or delay caused by the matters referred to in clause 10.10(c).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company may in its discretion return any excess goods to the Supplier at the Supplier's sole risk and expense.
- 10.16. If the quantity of Goods delivered is less than that specified in the Purchase Order, the Company may elect to either retain all or part of the Goods delivered and pay such portion of the Purchase Price as reasonably reflects the portion of the Goods retained or to not accept the Goods delivered and not pay the Purchase Price at all.

11. Acceptance and warranty of Goods and Services

- 11.1. The Company will determine, acting reasonably, whether the Goods and/or Services supplied are in accordance with this Agreement.
- 11.2. The Company will not be deemed to have accepted any Goods or Services until it has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect the Goods after delivery and to inspect and test the results of any Services after performance. Payment for the Goods or Services, or the signing of delivery receipts before inspection, does not constitute acceptance of the Goods or the Services.
- 11.3. If the Company determines that any of the Goods and Services supplied are not in accordance with this Agreement, the Company may either
- (a) accept the Goods or Services; or
 - (b) reject the Goods or Services and require, at its sole election:
 - (i) repair or replace the Defective Goods and/or Defective Services as soon as reasonably practicable; or

- and the Company may in any event claim damages for any other costs, expenses or losses resulting from the Supplier's provision of Goods and/or Services that were not in conformity with this Agreement.
- 11.4. If, at any time during the Warranty Period, the Company determines that any Goods or Services are Defective, it may give notice to the Supplier of the Defect and direct the Supplier to remedy the Defect within a timeframe to be specified in the notice which is to be reasonable having regard to the circumstances.

- the Company may (either by itself or by engaging one or more third parties) make good the Defect in whatever manner it considers appropriate (acting reasonably), including repair, replacement or re-performance (as applicable) of the Defective Goods or Services, and recover from the Supplier (as a debt due and owing) the Company's reasonably incurred costs in doing so.
- 11.7. The Company's inspection, testing or acceptance of some or all of the Goods or Services does not in any way change, affect or limit:
- (a) the Supplier's obligations under this Agreement; or
 - (b) the Company's rights against any person in respect of any damage or loss the Company may suffer because of the Supplier's breach of warranty or failure to fulfil any of its obligations under this Agreement.
- 11.8. If the Company decides to accept an instalment of Goods or Services from the Supplier which do not comply with the terms of this Agreement, this decision does not bind the Company to accept future instalments of non-compliant Goods or Services. Any payments by the Company are not to be construed as acceptance by the Company of Defective Goods or Services.

- 11.9. The terms of this Agreement will apply to any repaired, replaced or re-performed Goods or Services and any goods or services supplied by the Supplier as repair, replacement or re-performance of Defective Goods or Services, will be subject to the same warranty (commencing from the date they are repaired, replaced or resupplied) as if they were original Goods or Services undertaken to be supplied on the terms of this Agreement.
- 11.10. The Company's rights and remedies under this clause 11 are in addition to any rights or remedies available to the Company under any relevant law (including but not limited to the Sale of Goods Act 1895 (WA) and the ACL). Nothing in this Agreement is intended to have the effect of excluding, restricting or modifying the application of all or any of the provisions of the ACL or the exercise of a right conferred by such a provision or any liability of the Supplier in relation to a failure to comply with a guarantee that applies under the ACL to a supply of goods or services.
- 11.11. If the Supplier is the subject of a request, court order or other directive of a governmental body to recall or withdraw any Goods from the market it must immediately notify the Company and provide a copy of the request, court order or directive to the Company. The Supplier indemnifies each Group Company against any loss or damage suffered or incurred by that Group Company as a result of or in connection with the Supplier not complying with its obligations under this clause 11.11.

12. Termination and suspension of this Agreement

- 12.1. Either Party may terminate this Agreement with immediate effect (without liability in respect of such termination) by giving written notice to the other Party if:

 - (f) if it wishes to claim any payment from the Company in addition to amounts already invoiced, give the Company a written claim within 30 days after the effective date of termination including such reasonable documentary evidence as required by the Company. The Supplier will be barred from making such claim after expiry of the 30-day period.
- 12.4. The Supplier's claim under clause 12.3(f) must not include any amount previously invoiced to the Company and may only include the following direct costs:
 - (a) a portion of the Price representing reasonable consideration for any Goods and/or Services already delivered to the Company in accordance with the Agreement prior to the effective date of termination; and
 - (b) if the notice of termination is given by the Company pursuant to clause 12.2:
 - (i) except to the extent already covered by paragraph (a) above, the reasonable cost of any materials manufactured or procured by the Supplier for the purpose of supplying any Goods and/or Services not yet delivered to the Company, which are not standard or stock items and which the Supplier cannot return or utilise, but only if the materials become the property of and are delivered to the Company upon payment;

- (ii) except to the extent already covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) above, any direct costs reasonably incurred by the Supplier in preparation for supplying Services to the Company;
- (iii) the Supplier's reasonable costs of demobilisation; and
- (iv) the Supplier's reasonable costs of complying with directions (other than a direction to comply with the terms of this Agreement) given by the Company upon, or subsequent to, termination.

- 12.5. If the Supplier makes a claim in accordance with clauses 12.3(f) and 12.4, the Company must act reasonably in assessing the claim and may exercise any rights it may have to withhold or set off payment having regard to any counterclaims the Company may have. Subject to the Company paying any claim amount determined by the Company to be payable to the Supplier pursuant to this clause 12.5, the Supplier shall waive any claims for damages, loss, expenses and costs which the Supplier may otherwise have had on account of the termination of the Contract by the Company.
- 12.6. Completion or termination of this Agreement does not affect:
- (a) any rights of the Parties which may have accrued before the date of termination; and
 - (b) the rights and obligations of the Parties under this Agreement (including those in clauses 13, 14, 15, 22 and 25.12) which survive completion or termination of this Agreement.
- 12.7. The Company has the right, at any time and for any reason, to suspend the Supplier's performance of this Agreement or any part of it by giving the Supplier written notice.
- 12.8. If a notice of suspension is given by the Company, the Supplier must suspend its performance of this Agreement as required pursuant to the notice of suspension until such time as the Company gives the Supplier written notice ending the suspension. At such time, the Supplier must promptly recommence the performance of its obligations under this Agreement.
- 12.9.
